SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

About the time this newspaper goes to press, one of the most important meetings in the history of the town will be taking place concerning one of the most momentous subjects. If you are not present at the schoolhouse when the chamber of commerce president raps the gavel for a discussion of how to get sewers for Cypress, then fie on you. And double fie and more fie if you not only do not attend the public gatherings, but stay away and then criticize the chamber because you do not agree with what it is trying to do for you. Members of the chamber are only people, after all. And in a matter such as this the cooperation, knowledge and experience of everyone in town is needed in forming a policy. It is our studied opinion that one of the very things that keeps Cypress from becoming a well-developed small community is the alacrity with which dissension is voiced outside a meeting hall and the lassitude manifested in the development of a plan or improvement. It will continue to be a source of constant amazement to us that in a town of some 3,000, the responsibility for the decisions which control the destiny of the group rests with so few individuals. We will predict, however, that you'll be reading new names of residents you probably never heard of before by the time this matter of procuring sewers for Cypress is thrashed out—and that's a very good sign.

That 6-foot shadow you see walking around Cypress is our brother, Dale, ex-editor of this so-called "news" sheet. Yup, he's been dieting!

Next time we consider promoting a self-styled piece of public service through this column we'll jump into a lion's den or a pit of cobras, insteada'. We found out where the rain gauge was, all right. And the man who has it and is keeping the records daily is so happy with his avocation that he invites anyone from the chamber of commerce who desires it to come after it—armed with a shot gun!

For our many readers in remote parts of the country and the world who wonder if an emergency still exists, we have had two conditions called to our attention. One is that heating facilities are still fairly non-existent in homes where there are floor furnaces, and the other is that the pasture lands of the Gandolas out Orange and Denni road way were so badly flooded last week that there was a stretch of about 18 hours when their cattle were forced to stand without having an opportunity to lie down. As of Wednesday evening, it had rained 15.37 inches this year compared to 4.35 this time last year!

Cypress Lose Matches Friday Night

All Three Cypress bowling teams met defeat in bowling action Friday night in the Friday handicap league at the Buena Park bowl.

The Enterprise managed to pick up only one game, while losing three in their tussle with Nutrilite Products. Don Cole was high for the locals with a 180.

VFW No. 2 picked up one and lost three to Buena Real estate, with Johnny Johnson topping the night's action with a high game of 177. Chuck Daniel was high last week with a 214, but a shortage of players for his team made the handicap too great to make a match of it with their fellow VFW team, No. 3.

VFW No. 3, who has been winning for several weeks without a setback, finally met its match in Lalicker's Dry goods league-leading team. The result was 4-0, with Cypress on the losing end.

P.T.A. Elects Mrs. K. B. Giles New President For Next Year

Fathers became "kings for a night" at the regular meeting of the Cypress Parent-Teacher association on Thursday evening. Hosts at the refreshment hour were the male parents whose children attend third, fourth and fifth grades.

Acting as master of ceremonies, Vern Martin, sixth grade teacher, presented several interesting readings, both humorous and dramatic. His colleague, Thomas Lorenzini, one of the eighth grade instructors, held the wrapt attention of his audience with his "Lessons in magic". An amateur magician, Lorenzini more than mystified those who were in attendance. Another father, the Rev. Jack Tutor, closed the meeting with a prayer.

Officers elected

Mrs. Keith B. Giles was elected president for the coming school year, and Mrs. Ivan Mahaffie first vice-president. Mrs. Melvin Callahan was chosen second vice-president. Others named were Mrs. D. Bakker, secretary; Mrs. Arden Hambly, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Collins, auditor; Mrs. James Bolinger, Jr., historian and Mrs. Murton Jones, who was re-elected parliamentarian.

Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, superintendent, stated that the next meeting, at which the new officers will be installed, will be held one week earlier. This is because of the Easter vacation. School will be out on Friday, April 4, she said, and will reopen again on Monday, April 14. Easter Sunday is April 13.

Mrs. Kathleen Kinney's fifth grade won the room count for the intermediate division. This was the second victory for her room in one day. Earlier they had won the bank award for the week. Miss Mary Jean Lambert's first grade and Lorenzini's class were other room count winners.

Complete Survey

Miss Dickerson also revealed that the dental survey in the Cypress school completed last Wednesday showed that 78% of the children had defective teeth. Five dentists conducted the examinations.

Correction

In reporting the automobile accident last week involving Olga Ronconi, she was erroneously called "Mrs. Ronconi," and her address was given as Santa Ana.

Miss Ronconi moved back to 5552 Orange ave. two weeks ago. Her many friends here will be glad to know that her condition is much improved from injuries suffered in the accident and she is able to be up and about.

GET WORD OF FIRE FROM KIN

Mrs. Price Seibert's brother, Ernest Bouchard, Jr., and his family lost everything in a fire which completely destroyed their farmhouse at Lisbon, New York. Word of the tragedy was received this week.

The two small sons of the Seibert's, Junior and Russell Culp, who have been in New York since last summer, were alone in the house. When they awoke and smelled smoke, they fled outside in the night. The youngsters are only eight and nine years of age, but had been warned by their uncle what to do in case of fire.

Ernest Bouchard, Sr., has been staying with his father in Malone, New York, sixty miles away. The families are well known in Cypress, all of them having lived here before moving to New York state.

SIGN UP TO VOTE!

Mrs. Frank Williams, official registrar for Cypress, reports that business is brisk among voters who are required to register or re-register. Deadline to vote in the coming school election is Sunday, March 23. Deadline to vote in the June primaries is April 10.

Mrs. Williams urges that residents who have moved into town or moved from one location to another check with her at her home, 9060 Walker street. Or she may be reached by telephone at Anaheim 60458 for information if there is any doubt in the mind of the voter as to whether or not he is eligible.

School Girl Again Winner With Speech

An Anaheim high school senior, Miss Elizabeth Van Hunnick of 9141 Miller road, was the winner in a public speaking contest held in Santa Ana Monday night. Three schools competed in the contest sponsored by the Orange County Native Sons organization.

Miss Van Hunnick will go to the district finals April 23 to be held in Los Angeles. Ifsuccessful there, she will compete in the state finals in Fresno in May. Prize at the latter will be a $1000 defense savings bond to the victor.

FRANKLIN SULLIVAN IS KIWANIS CLUB SPEAKER

Lt. Governor Franklin Sullivan, Buena Park, made his official visit to the Cypress Kiwanis club at its meeting in Loyd's drive-in Monday night.

He spoke on the seriousness of the moral state of the nation, and pointed out how the influence of service clubs could be one of the major factors in correcting the graft and crime that is so prevalent.

Guest of the club was Norris Westover.

MOON CAFE HAS GRAND OPENING

But Mrs. Ruth McLaughlin and Mrs. Roy Lind report that the warmth of the welcome displayed by their customers and friends toward their new business venture was more than compensated for by the inclement turn the weather took Saturday.

JUNIOR WOMEN PLAN DINNER FOR HUSBANDS

Plans were made for a "progressive dinner" the evening of March 29 when members of the Junior Women's club met recently in the home of Mrs. Bennie Pugh, 5572 Bishop street. Husbands will be guests.

The next regular monthly pot luck luncheon will be held on April 2 in the Paramount home of Mrs. George Gamble.

WIVES ARE GOOD INVESTMENTS

Married life may not always be beer and skittles. But husbands toting up their annual income tax returns are reminded once again that bachelorhood is no bargain.

A husband earning $10,000 a year, for example, pays $624 less tax than a bachelor. A tax expert has figured out that at this income level, the bachelor would have to earn $1340 more than the married man to keep the same take-home pay. It would require an investment of $32,600 at four per cent interest to earn $1340. Therefore, the wife is worth $32,600.

Obviously, under present tax laws, no man can afford to be without a wife. That should set at rest the minds of many husbands who have never been sure on that score. And to the eternal question with which wives have plagued husbands since time immemorial: "Darling, do you really love me?", they can truthfully reply: "Dear, you are my most cherished possession."

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

The actions of the House, in connection with the UMT bill, on March 4th, may have been confusing to the people at home. I have never had a better chance however to emphasize two principles of government to which I repeatedly call attention.

The first is the principle, under the form of government known as the Republic, that you send your representatives to Sacramento and to Washington with instructions to study problems, and to act for you. You do tell them your desires and your opinions, but you do not tell them how to vote on bills. You can not, for you do not know what the situation will be at the time a vote is taken. This is strong theory and has helped keep representative government in this nation for over 162 years. The alternative, to have the people at home tell the representatives how to vote, is weak government, and has never survived in the history of the world.

This is practical. Using UMT for an example, I received hundreds and hundreds of letters, for and against UMT, not one writer of which had ever read the bill which attempted to translate an idea, or various ideas, into legislation. The Bill was reported from committee on February 18th. Before that everything was rumor.

The elected representatives are confined to the words printed on a paper, and required to vote on a bill, as it is amended in committee, probably amended further on the Floor, possibly amended still further in the other House, and finally changed by argument and compromise in a conference committee.

Your representatives are glad to hear from you, and to read various editorials, and these help form the background of knowledge and opinion they must have, but in the final analysis, each one must say, in the words of Edmund Burke, "Your representative owes you, not his industry only, but his judgment, and he betrays (you) instead of serving you, if he sacrifices it to your opinion."

Finally, we work in the Congress under procedures which are as old as the days of Thomas Jefferson. We meet as the Congress, but to work on a bill, we sit as the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union. Procedures are different in each case.

The original UMT bill (familiarly known to the disrespectful opposition as the "Pentagon-Rosenberg Bill) was sent to the committee on the Armed Services. It was H. R. 5904. The Armed Services Committee did not like many of the provisions, which included military control; the discriminatory training of a special "trial group;" the training of men an women, and other unacceptable provisions.

The Armed Services committee adopted amendments, and brought the bill to the Floor. General debate took a week. When that ended, amendments were in order under the "five minute rule." Immediately a motion was made by Mr. Bates, of the Armed Services committee, who as such could secure recognition (an important point) to "strike the enacting clause." Why that? Why not a motion to recommit? Because the latter was not in order under the procedures. Had the Bates motion carried, we would have "risen" and become the Congress, and the motion to recommit would have been a preferential motion, over the motion to strike the enacting clause. This was the way to get to the motion to recommit.

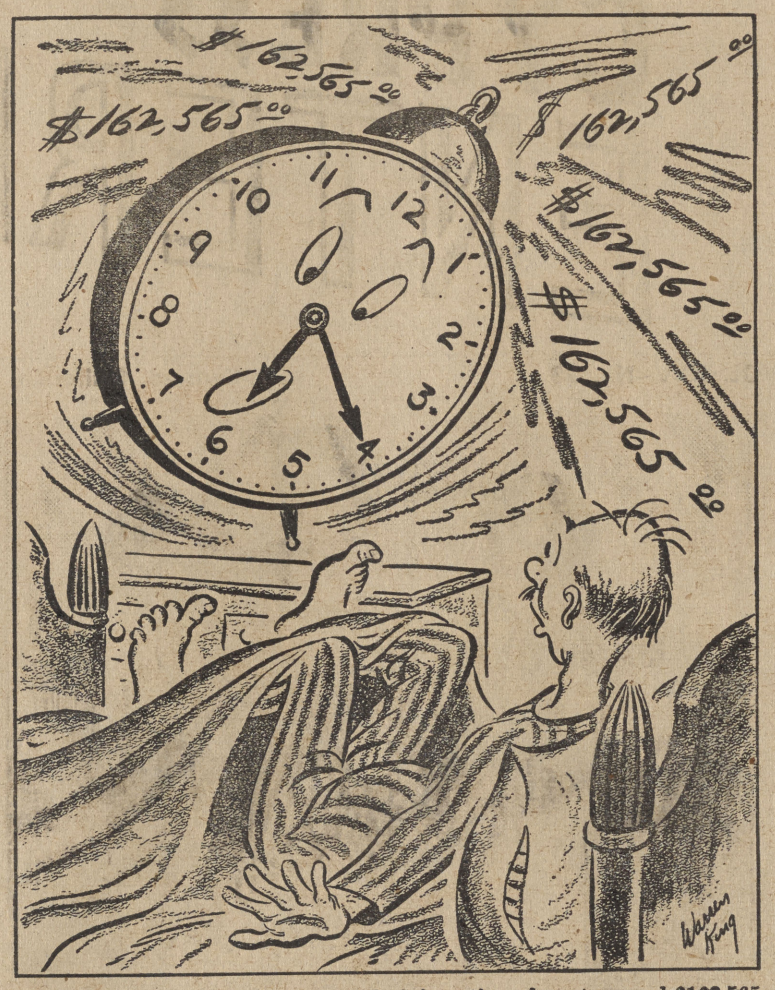
The Bates motion lost. The chairman of the Armed Services committee offered what we call a "sweetening motion," or one with changes intended to make the bill more acceptable to the opposition. It carried. An unimportant clarifying motion carried.

Now watch carefully! Mr. Burleson offered a motion favored by many of us, to attach the training program, so far as possible, to the college system. This was a substitute for the committee bill. Mr. Brownson offered an amendment to the Burleson substitute, allowing optional training in high schools. The Brownson amendment carried, on a teller vote, 133 to 128. The Burleson substitute then carried, on a teller vote, 150 to 145. Under the rule, the Committee of the Whole rose and became the Congress. A roll call was demanded. The Burleson substitute was defeated 155 to 235.

Under our procedures, the defeat of a SUBSTITUTE amendment carried with it all preceding amendments. We were back not merely to the start of the argument; we were back to the Pentagon-Rosenberg bill, without even the amendments adopted in the committee on Armed Services.

The only possible action was to recommit the bill. One motion to recommit was permitted under the rule, and that, as always, was the right of the minority. Had the Bates original motion carried, we would already have exhausted that right, or perhaps carried it by a narrow margin. As it was, proponents and opponents voted to recommit and the motion carried, on roll call, 236 to 162. It is my opinion that UMT, as a Congressional enactment, is dead for the 82nd Congress.

Time To Wake Up



Every minute in fiscal 1953 the Administration plans to spend $162,565 of the taxpayers' money. That is what an $85 billion budget means.

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

Television now is interfering with law enforcement.

If you decide to murder anyone, better do it during the evening hours. Then nobody will hear you. Everyone will be listening to television programs.

Santa Ana police encountered such a situation last week when they started investigation of a taxicab murder that occurred on a quiet street.

The time was just after 10 p.m. The report of a .45 calibre revolver must have been very loud in the quiet of that untraveled residence neighborhood.

But not a soul along that block heard it, except a man who was standing on the porch of his home, watching the taxicab at the time the shot was fired; and his wife, who was inside waiting for him.

Everyone else along the block, where the police went from door to door asking if anyone had heard the shot, gave the same answer:

"We were watching television then. We didn't hear a thing."

Hopalong Cassidy's guns outreared anything on the street outside. Laurel and Hardy's crashes defied competition.

The wanton slaying of this young taxi driver for a paltry $16, if that really was the motive of the killing, is a stunning thing, hard to believe.

Killers slay for large sums, but a murder for $16 seems like holding human life very cheap indeed, when the money could have been taken with the mere threat of the gun, though with risk of later identification by the victim.

Yet some murders are committed without the slightest motive; not even $16. And that kind, obviously, are just that much more difficult to solve.

One attempted murder of that description—no motive—was detailed by E. N. Licks, investigator for the Los Angeles taxicab company which employed the victim of the Santa Ana killing.

Lucks was asked by newspapermen if taxi drivers are frequently or seldom victims of such tragedies. He said they are frequently assaulted but seldom slain.

Then he told of the motiveless attempt upon the life of one driver his company employed. A Negro hailed the taxi and asked to be taken to a certain address to pick up his wife for a trip to a theater. He halted the taxi in a disreputable looking section and directed the driver to pull up at the left-hand side of the street.

The Negro then crossed the street and disappeared between two buildings. As the driver watched him, the door beside the driver's seat was flung open and he turned to see another Negro pointing a gun at him.

The car door swung back against the gunman's arm and the gun was discharged, but the bullet went wild. The Negro dropped the weapon and ran.

Subsequently both Negros were captured, convicted and sent to prison for attempted murder. Their explanation of the attempt was terribly simple.

"We flipped a coin," they said, "to see which one of us would go out and kill a white man."

PLAN ELECTIONS FOR SOCIETIES AT NAZARENE

The executive council of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Cypress Church of the Nazarene met Tuesday morning at the church.

Wednesday evening, April 2, was set aside to elect new officers for the coming year. All members of the Evelyn Regan society and the Garnet Howard chapter are urged to be present and take part in this meeting.

At this time the yearly reports of the chairmen of both societies and the president will be given. After the meeting refreshments will be served by the executive council in the Missionary hall.

The Garnet Howard chapter will hold its regular meeting April 14 in the home of Mrs. Walter Allen, 5651 Vonnie Lane, and at this meeting officers for the coming year will be elected.

Shea Announces For Judge Of Municipal Court

Announcement of the candidacy of Justice John Shea of Anaheim for the position of judge in the Anaheim-Fullerton unified municipal court to be founded next January 1, was made public when Shea officially filed for the post.

Shea is currently judge of the Anaheim Township justice court and is practicing attorney in Anaheim.

Born in Indianapolis, Ind., he was brought by his parents to Cypress in 1922 where the family founded their home. He is a graduate of Anaheim Union high school, Fullerton Junior college and was an undergraduate student at the University of Southern California where he was a member of the university debating team. It was while a member of the debate squad that he first became interested in the practice of law. His legal training was completed at Loyola University in 1941. He was admitted to the practice of law in the same year.

Shea's first law office was opened in Los Angeles where he practiced until May of 1942 when he entered the Armed services. He served in the Infantry for several years as a training officer in the United States and later saw service in the Philippine Islands. He was discharged following the war with the rank of Major.

After the war, he returned to Anaheim and started his law practice.

He was appointed Anaheim City police judge in August of 1946 to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Frank Tausch. In December of 1947, Shea was appointed Justice of the Peace when Warren Schutz, local justice, resigned.

Shea, his wife Ellenore and eight-year-old daughter Kathleen reside at 427 North Resh Street in Anaheim. He is an active member of the Anaheim Post 72 of the American Legion; the Anaheim Elks club where he is Loyal Knight; a member of the Knights of Columbus, and is a member of the board of directors of the Anaheim Lions club. Shea is past president of the Anaheim Community Chest, and Past Chairman of the Orange County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis of which he is still a Board member.

His most recent honor is the appointment to the State Judicial Committee to study means of improving the administration of justice in traffic cases. The appointment was made by Chief Justice Phil Gibson and represents the only appointment in Orange County. Shea has been active in the work of reorganizing the municipal court system to produce greater efficiency and economy in local courts. Political Adv.

Daniel Bebereia, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Bebereia of 4842 Lincoln ave., left Tuesday to return to his duties at Camp Cook hospital. While he was home on leave his wife, the former Yvonne Duncan, daughter of Mrs. Jacqueline Duncan at 9721 Graham st., presented him with a daughter.

Over for luncheon and a boat ride in their "Captain Andy" at the Balboa Bay club recently were Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Damron and the latter's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson.

Glen McCloud Says

Orange county as the single largest producer of citrus fruits in the nation clearly qualifies agriculture as the back-bone of the district.

Diversified farming and ranching, including the wholesale production of citrus, beets, beans and other crops, brings in many millions of dollars to residents both directly and indirectly. What is good for the farmer is also good for the businessman and the white-colar professional man.

As always, the farmer, citrus grower and rancher is himself an independent business man—risking his property and his fortunes on such variables as the market, the weather and many smaller though important conditions. He is also a champion of free enterprise, for government "by the people" and "for the people" determines his success or failure.

This is why so many of our great leaders of the nation in years gone by have known the wishes of the people—for they too were men of the soil. I believe prosperity of the country is only as good as that of its farmers.

Pamela Martin Has Birthday

Petite little Pamela Ray Martin took her first birthday in stride when she celebrated with a party at the age of one year on March 12. Her little friends gathered to note the occasion, each bringing along and adult to share in the festivities.

Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Martin, on Karen st. The opening of the presents posed a problem, but the beautiful pink and white cake, served with ice cream, candy and punch, was no trouble for tiny fingers.

Present were Mrs. Gene Kelly with Sheryl, Gary and Peggy; Mrs. Alex Patton and Paulette; Mrs. Robert Stearns and Susan Faith; Mrs. Leon Ferguson and Ronald; Miss Gayle McCoy and Larry; Mrs. J. C. Napier and Phyllis and Mrs. Elden Denny and Dale.

Also present were both grandmothers, Mrs. C. C. Martin, Mrs. F. G. Bodkins, and Miss Vevah Gail Bodkins and Johnny Bodkins, aunt and uncle respectively.

Not present but sending gifts were Sue Ann and Gail Ann Howard, Nicky Koumis and Delaino Miller.

Mrs. E. E. Goodman, Mrs. Leon Sewell and Mrs. Ray Lucas attended a reception in Santa Ana Friday evening at which Mrs. Edna Clayton, district president of the auxiliary to the VFW was hostess. Honored guests were Mrs. Geraldine Morehouse, department president, and Mrs. Opal Walter, department senior vice president, whose home is in Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thornton, 4114 Lincoln ave., received a letter this week from their son, Bennie, "somewhere in the Pacific." It was just the week before that the Thorntons and Miss Jody Montgomery spent the day with Bennie in San Pedro, and watched later as his ship sailed for Japan. The Thornton's other son, Charles, is still in Seattle.

ILLINI VISIT MRS. MADGE LYEN

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hurst of Rosiclare, Illinois, spent Monday with Mrs. Madge Lyen. Mrs. Hurst and Mrs. Lyen are old high school chums. This is the first time they have seen each other since 1919.

They enjoyed the day at Knott's with dinner at the steak house. Old 41 was of special interest to the ladies because they were graduated from Durango high school, where old 41 made the run to Silverton, so they used to see old 41 almost every day in its natural habitat.

Hurst was a contruction engineer on the million dollar highway in 1918. This is the only link between Durango and Silverton now since the train has been abandoned.

The girls used to be very proud of the fact that Harold Lloyd was also a graduate of their school, a few years before, and his name appeared backstage with a cast of characters written on the back of the wings.

SISTERS DOUBLE ON BIRTHDAY FETE

Neighborhood youngsters came to the rescue and helped two little newcomers celebrate their birthdays with a joint party recently. Carol and Marilyn Allen, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Allen, entertained at the family home, 8621 Walker st. Their mother served birthday cake and the guests received candy and little book favors.

Present were Joe Jenkins, who obliged with several accordion numbers, his brother, Eddie Jenkins, Marietta and Emil Holborow, Marilyn Standfield, and a cousin and his parents from Long Beach.

ILL ON BIRTHDAY

The K. D. Tillema family, former residents who now live near Chino, were visitors Saturday. Mrs. Tillema and her sister, Mrs. Luke Vandenberg, 5341 Bishop st., had planned a small family celebration to mark the birthday of their mother. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bleyenberg, of Minnesota, are wintering here. But the latter was too ill with the flu, so party plans were called off.

The Tillema's youngest child, a boy, is five months old. Their family numbers five boys and three girls.

New face downtown is that of Ben Stephens, teen-age brother of John Stephens of Walker st. Ben began work this week at the Snowfence company in Los Alamitos, where Mrs. Ray Edwards is bookkeeper and receptionist. The two brothers are former residents of Kentucky, where their parents still reside.

Mrs. Goodman Chosen Head Another Year

Recognizing her ability as a leader, members of the C. R. Rogers VFW auxiliary re-elected Mrs. E. E. Goodman to serve as president for another year. She will be assisted in her second term by Mrs. Ray Lucas, senior vice-president; Mrs. Castella Rogers, junior vice-president and Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler, treasurer.

Others chosen in the election Monday night were Mrs. Charles Daniel, chaplain; Mrs. Leon Sewell, conductress; Mrs. J. E. Smith, guard; Mrs. Henry Muesse, three-year trustee and Mrs. D. R. Canfield, two-year trustee. Delegates to district meetings are Mrs. Tom Demiris, Mrs. Kreissler and Mrs. Rogers.

A joint installation will take place with the post members on April 24 at the schoolhouse. Mrs. Goodman appointed a refreshment committee for next month which will also be responsible for the installation evening. They are Mmes. Muesse, Smith, Canfield, Tom Demiris, Malvern Blake and Ted Priddy.

Spaghetti Dinner

Members were reminded of the spaghetti dinner to be served to families and friends Sunday afternoon at the VFW hall beginning at two o'clock. In charge of Mrs. Lucas, proceeds will go to the special "home fund", of which she is chairman.

D. D. Rogers was honored recently at a meeting of Sunday school teachers and officers in Compton. He represented the First Baptist church of Cypress at the conference and was given the title of "king", which entitled him to wear a make-believe crown.

NATIVE DAUGHTER FORUM SPEAKER AT HIGH SCHOOL

Ann Jones, fresh out of Korea, will give the lecture—"Communistic Patchwork the World Over", in the forum series, "The Cold War", at the Anaheim Union High school Monday evening, March 24 at 7:30 p.m.

California born, Ann Jones has taught English and the American way of living in Seoul University.

In 1949 she accepted a position with the Foreign Service division of the State department and was sent to Seoul, Korea. There she met and married 1st Lt. W. Glenn Jones, Jr. who is now believed to be a Prisoner of War of the Chinese Reds. In June 1951, Ann Jones assisted in the evacuation from Korea of some 672 women and children to Fukuoka, Japan.

Former residents here, the Collette family have returned to Cypress and a home on Cypress avenue after an absence in San Francisco. The children are back in the elementary school.

Attending the district meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Palm Springs Sunday morning from the local auxiliary and post were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lucas, Mrs. Tom Demiris, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler and their guest, Miss Betty Saunders. The group found a choice desert spot at noon where they enjoyed a picnic lunch.

DAVID FARRELL

Candidate

Farrell, War Flier, Runs For Congress

Youngest candidate running for election as the 28th Congressional District's first representative to the House is David Farrell, 32, Santa Ana businessman.

Now president of California Chair Shops Corporation with offices in Santa Ana, Farrell has lived in the Orange county seat since 1939 when he arrived to attend Santa Ana College. He left school soon after Pearl Harbor to join the USAAF as an aviation cadet. Farrell served as a pilot in 8th Air Force until he was shot down over Bremen, Germany in April, 1943. He was held captive for more than two years.

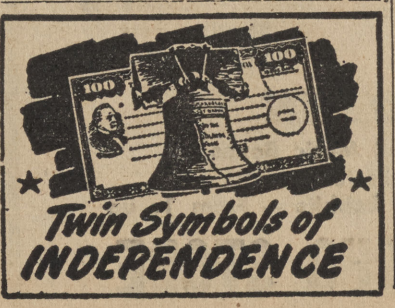
Married and the father of three children, Farrell has lived in Santa Ana the past five years. He is a native of Minneapolis, Minn. He is an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in which he serves as Superintendent of the Mutual Improvement Association—a cultural, recreational phase of church life.

Farrell put himself through high school by selling newspapers and magazines. While in college, he supported himself by selling other products.

"I determined to go into this race for Congress when the controls which the government has established became unendurable." Believing that the 16th Amendment (income tax) should be repealed, Farrell states: "The present tax laws are sucking the life blood of incentive out of private enterprise. The opportunities for young, new business are unreasonably handicapped. In plain English, 'No direct tax on incomes'."

Other points he believes are that man was "made to be free and our government was formed to insure the continuance of that freedom. The role which government plays in our lives must be reduced." Asserting that many federal bureaus need to be "permanently closed," Farrell favors pruning and re-organizing all federal branches and bureaus.

Another point he makes is placing of U. S. interests first by preparing American defense against foreign aggression — then aiding other countries by arms and commercial aid on a loan and repayment basis.



Candidates Declare But Few File

Political candidates were appearing rapidly and sometimes unexpectedly on the Orange county election horizon this week, but only a handful had actually qualified by filing their nomination petitions, it was shown by records of County Clerk B. J. Smith.

Mrs. Lilian Angle, in charge of the registration and filing department, reported that since Speaker Sam L. Collins of the assembly had filed for both the republican and democratic nominations to the state senate on opening day, March 5, only four other candidates had filed their petitions.

They were Assemblyman Earl W. Stanley of Newport Beach, for re-election, on both party tickets; Supervisors C. M. Featherly, Santa Ana, first district, and Supervisor Ralph J. McFadden, Placentia, third district, both for re-election; and Albert J. Delphine, Costa Mesa attorney, for judge of Newport Beach justice court.

Other candidates who had taken out nomination petitions but had not yet filed them were: James B. Rebekahs Give Tents To Troop

When Rebekah lodge no. 406 met Tuesday night, members voted to provide the local scout troop, of which Warren Ter Beest is scoutmaster, with two pup tents. Other donation was an additional five dollars to the coordinating council to apply on the purchase of a wheelchair, making a ten dollar total to that organization.

Plans were also discussed to raise money which will be donated to the Cypress volunteer fire department for a rescue wagon. A square dance in the fire station was decided upon as one project. A definite date for the affair will be announced later. It was also thought that a variety show would be another project.

Elected as official delegates to the Rebekah assembly of California to be held in Long Beach in May were Mrs. Ethel Cleveland and Mrs. Evie Junker.

Refreshments following the meeting were in charge of Mrs. Vic Konig and her committee.

APPLIES FOR CHANGE IN FENCING PERMIT

Sam Rosen, 9372 Walker, has applied for a change in a permit to the county planning commission concerning a fence around his property.

The original permit called for a fence to completely surround his place, and the change he asks for limits the area to a smaller space on the back of his lot and north side. The fenced in portion will be used for pipe storage.

MOTHERSINGERS CHORAL GROUP CHANGES NIGHT

Meeting nights for the Mothersingers' group, a chorus of women from Cypress and Anaheim P-T.A. groups, have been changed due to a series of circumstances.

Next meeting will be in Cypress. It has been decided to meet the first Monday nights of the month at 7:30 o'clock in the Cypress school auditorium.

The third Monday evenings of the month Mrs. J. Lee Rogers will be hostess to the singers at her home, 13371 E. North st., in Anaheim.

Mrs. Nielsen Is Honoree At Shower

Mrs. Carl Nielsen was the recipient of many useful and lovely articles to add to the layette she is preparing when she was honored at a shower last Thursday evening. Mrs. Derril Cardin and her daughter, Deloris, were cohostesses in their home, 5362 Nelson street, for the delightful affair.

Winners of prizes in the appropriate games which were played were Mrs. Ernest Harris, Mrs. Ruth Pugh and Mrs. Bessie McCoy. Mrs. Nielsen was presented with a "Book of Soles", a novel remembrance which included the names of each invited guest on a leaf the shape of the sole of a baby's shoe, which were bound together.

Present besides those already mentioned were Mmes Charles Green, M. R. "Bob" Jensen, Frank Fagundes, Bea Hahn, Keith-Giles, Jeff Davis, A. E. Arnold, Milam Williams, G. M. "Nebb" Milbourn, W. J. McCoid, and the Misses Beth Kroesen and Diane Nielsen.

Unable to be present but sending a gift were Mmes Haskell Kelley, Frank Ferreira, John Thomas, Roy Gravley, H. J. G. Kreissler, Ralph Haralson, Burt Kroesen, Don Caul, Earl Essex, Evie Junker, Mary Collom, and John Stodart.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Pittsburgh Tech Institute
134 Market Place
Pittsburgh, Pa.
March 6, 1952

Hello editor:

Just a line to let you hear from the great state of Pennsylvania. But California is the only place to live. These people here have never been out of the state so they don't know any better.

I am here going to college to see if I can learn some much needed knowledge. My boss, Merle Bouse of Cypress, was good to me and I got the first class.

Things are really high back here. Electricians are getting over two hundred a week on construction work. We are having real cold weather and it feels like it's really colder than it is. Give my regards to all for me. Tell Barney and Rick to have a cup of Leona's coffee for me. I'm getting two years' college in ten weeks, so you see, I am really cramming between the coffee.

I came to Pittsburgh on the Santa Fe and Penn railroads via Chicago.

Your Cypress friend,
Charles W. Biggs

Mrs. Clarence Fender, 5302 Bishop st., was called home to Dexter, Iowa, by the unexpected death of her father, Theodore Cook. Funeral services were held in Earlham, Iowa, with burial at Bear Creek, a short distance away. Mrs. Fender made the trip by air.

Mrs. Price Seibert is expecting her cousin, Mrs. Joe Paglow of New York to sepnd some time with her in the near future. Mr, and Mrs. Paglow were here overnight Friday. He is expected to be sent overseas from Seattle, which was their destination. The cousins had not met in 13 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mathison of Palos Verdes estates spent Saturday and Sunday in the parental Fred Walley home.
